

17.5.19

What a lovely week- thank you so much for sending you children in with hats and sun cream it means that we don't have to become unpopular by keeping them in the shade!!!

This week we've had a donation of some fantastic superhero toys. The children have loved exploring them and playing collaboratively with them. We have seen new games being invented, role playing and lots of turn taking which is lovely to see developing.

We have been recapping the sounds 'air' and 'ear' in phonics this week and have been learning about halving in Maths.

We have been reading 'The Very Hungry Caterpillar' this week. Our class caterpillars have already grown into 'big, fat caterpillars' and are looking like they will start to build cocoons soon. We've been painting butterflies and caterpillars, writing the story and continuing to explore our secret garden - minibeast hunting.
